

Economic Budget cuts may call for an Exhibit Band-Aid.

Triad provides them without letting your Image suffer.

Recession budget cuts hurt. And management may decree that its existing trade show exhibit initiate the four R's; Retrofit, Redesign, Reduce or Reuse. This is usually followed by a directive to be creative and protect the brand image. Welcome to Triad Triage. The bleeding stops here. Utilizing our award-winning design skills, we apply creative band-aids to change, update and modify your exhibit to meet the current and temporary needs without letting your image suffer. We also do it very cost efficiently, because we want you to remember who helped you stop the bleeding now... for the time to come when this economy starts to heal.
